MARKET COMMENTARY

DSM

Most active submarket this week with 4 new listings and 4 closings. Ames accounted for 3 of the 4 listings and drove the highest sales pricing with the $5.9M Hayward Ave transaction at $178,788/unit. Investor activity in the university corridor remains elevated.

Iowa City

No new listings but the largest transaction of the week — 2517 Sylvan Glen Court at $10.5M / $152,174 per unit — confirms institutional pricing pressure in the Iowa City submarket. Watch for follow-on supply as owners benchmark to this comp.

Rural

Three listings entered the rural market totaling 107 units — the largest share of new supply — with pricing averaging $65,132/unit. The Ft. Dodge 72-unit listing remains the largest active listing in the state this week. Only one rural sale confirmed (West Burlington).

Sioux City

One large 72-unit listing entered the market (2807-2811 Lincoln Way) with pricing not yet disclosed. No sales activity. Market remains quiet relative to prior weeks.

Waterloo

One listing, no sales. 12-unit B-class asset at $62,083/unit consistent with submarket norms. Market stable.

DEAL TO WATCH — Ames University Corridor

Ames generated three new listings (626 16th St, 212 Hayward Ave, 519 Welch Ave) and one confirmed sale (316 Hayward Ave at $5.9M / $178,788 per unit) in the same week — a rare combination of simultaneous supply and demand pressure in a single submarket. The Hayward sale establishes a new comp ceiling for the university corridor. Owners of similar vintage assets in the 10–35 unit range should be benchmarking to this number. Investors seeking below-replacement-cost entry should note that the three new Ames listings remain unpriced, creating a potential first-mover window.

Broker to Watch: CBRE listing all three Ames properties. Triad Real Estate Partners represented the Hayward sale.
